1. No plantings, storage or materials or other semi-permanent loadings which generate pressures in excess of 85 lbs/sq. ft. even over limited areas are permitted. This equates to soil depths less than 24" in all cases.
2. Hot tubs and inflatable pools are not permitted
3. Plantings and limited material storage is permitted, provided loading is limited as in Point 1 above and clear space is provided around plantings and stored materials sufficient to attenuate the effective average distributed load to an allowable level of 10 lbs/sq ft.
4. The "exclusion zones" do not preclude occupant access for tending of plantings or other similar residential occupancy activity. It is understood that live loading due to occupancy and snow is in addition to the superimposed dead load allowance.
5. Typical residential chattels such as: deck chairs, tables, heaters and barbeques (provided these items are permitted under existing by-laws and fire/insurance regulations) among others, have negligible effect and are excluded.
6. Stored personal effects in boxes or weather proof containers should be limited to no more than 36" in height, following the guidance provided in SK-01 for clear space surrounding, unless it can be demonstrated that the effects of this storage do not exceed the 10 lbs/sq. ft. superimposed dead load allowance."
